KANAKADAASA JAYANTHI

Organised by: RUKMINI KNOWLEDGE PARK

Date: 6th November 2017

Year: 2017

REVA University celebrates, the birth anniversary of Saint and Poet KANAKA DASA, one of the greatest social reformers of Karnataka and who is equally noted for his musical compositions

The 15th century revolutionary poet Kanakadasa advocated equality and defied caste system. He generally worships Lord Vishnu, but Saint Kanakadasa questioned Vishnu. From a young age Kanakadasa had to bear the brunt of the notorious caste system and untouchability and he fought against the evil through his poems, which exposed the futility of external rituals and stressed the need for promoting of moral values in life.

Poems of Kanakadasa dealt with every aspect of life and he was highly critical of the caste system. In one such poem, Ramadhanyacharite, he suggests that the difference between the higher and lower castes is similar to the difference between rice and millet. Rice is used by high caste people and for religious rituals. Millet is the staple food of the poor. But Millet is much higher in status in the eyes of God (Lord Ram). Great Bhakti poet, philosopher, musician, social reformer, composer are some of the titles often associated with Kanakadasa. A society like ours need the message and teachings of the social reformer Sri Kanaka Dasar. Nearly 150 students and faculty have participated in the birthday celebrations.

Gandhi Jayanthi-2019

School: School of Applied Sciences

Venue: Lalbagh Botanical Garden

Date: 02.10.2019

On Gandhi Jayanti, REVA University School of Applied Sciences conducted a cleanliness drive and awareness campaign on global warming at Lalbagh Botanical Garden in Bengaluru. REVA University wants to create awareness on global warming through the initiative – Jagruti towards Global Warming. Around 530 students of REVA University took up the responsibility to create awareness on global warming through a cleanliness drive at Lalbagh Botanical Garden on October 2, 2019. The cleanliness drive was organised to evoke a sense of cleanliness amongst the public for a healthy environment.

Students also piloted a flash mob near Lalbagh Glass House to create consciousness amongst the public on the consequences of global warming. They also measured the carbon dioxide levels of the Lalbagh Botanical Garden to understand whether the presence of CO₂ is at a dangerous level. The students also conducted a survey amongst the shopkeepers and visitors on global warming and its consequences. The research data collected will be used for research studies at REVA University, which also helps in formulating solutions against the alarming consequences of global warming.

Report on the Green Diwali Celebration

Department of Biotechnology, School of Applied Sciences

Venue: Amphitheatre, CV Raman block

Date: 25-11-2019

Deepavali, the festival of lights, illuminates light over spiritual darkness, knowledge over ignorance and right over wrong. It is a restatement of belief that the good ultimately triumphs over evil. Light and brightness has always been equated with positivity and motivation. It burns only to give message of peace and its flames signifies success. REVA University took an initiative to light 8000 odd lamps as a symbol of success, growth and knowledge development on 25/11/19 at Amphi Theatre ushering in the festivities of Diwali as a festival of lights and positivity rather than that of noise. Students across the University participated in the program. Initiative was taken by the School of Applied Sciences, REVA University as a part of Jagruthi phase –II Program on Awareness about Global Warming. Celebrating Diwali in an eco-friendly manner by only lighting lamps signifying the need to conserve environment even during the occasions of celebrations and festival is to instil in the young minds the need to protect the environment. The program was inaugurated by Honourable Chancellor Dr. P. Shyama Raju. The occasion was graced by Vice- Chancellor, Registrar, and Dean, Placement & Planning.

CELEBRATION OF UNIVERSAL HUMANITY DAY IN HONOR OF KUVEMPU

Venue: CK Prahaladha Seminar Hall, REVA University

Date : 29th December 2022

Year: 2022-2023

On December 29th, 2023, Universal Humanity Day was celebrated in honour of the renowned writer and thinker, Kuvempu. The event was organized to commemorate his birthday and to highlight his message of universal humanity and social justice. As part of the celebration, a special lecture was organized for students to gain a deeper understanding of Kuvempu's intellectual consciousness. Kakanahalli Shivamadh M., who has conducted extensive research on Kuvempu's works, was invited as the chief guest to deliver the lecture.

The event began with a brief introduction by the organizer, highlighting Kuvempu's contributions to literature and philosophy. The lecture was then delivered by Kakanahalli Shivamadh M., who provided a comprehensive overview of Kuvempu's life, work, and ideas.

The lecture emphasized Kuvempu's message of universal humanity and social justice, and how his works continue to inspire people around the world. Kakanahalli Shivamadh M. also provided an analysis of Kuvempu's literary works, highlighting the key themes and ideas that are relevant even today.

The celebration of Universal Humanity Day in honor of Kuvempu was a resounding success, with students gaining a deeper understanding of Kuvempu's life, work, and ideas. The lecture by Kakanahalli Shivamadh M. provided valuable insights into Kuvempu's message of universal humanity and social justice, and how it continues to inspire people even today. The event was a fitting tribute to Kuvempu's legacy, and a reminder of the importance of his ideas in building a more just and humane society.
